

The Amazing Fairground

Blaster

By Emily Freeman

The Amazing Fairground

BY EMILY

One evening when it was hot and sunny, some friends called Sita, Joe, Nicky and Ashley were talking about going to the fair.

The friends were sat in a restaurant, eating spaghetti and meatballs which were Nicky's favourite. They had ice-cream sundae for pudding and then they all decided to go to the fair.

They were excited and also worried about one of the new rides. It was a fast ride, which might make them feel sick and dizzy. They decided to be brave and queued up for the fast ride. The ride was called Blaster. It went up and down, round and round and upside down.

Joe was feeling scared because it looked like he was going to fall off. He could see loads of lights. It made him shiver and quiver and when he got off he felt better to see the ground again.

After the blaster, they went on the Mousey-Mousey and Ashley went with them. Ashley felt like she was going to fall off and she did fall off. Suddenly, Nicky screamed, "I've lost my money, somebody must have stolen it." So they were so upset because Nicky had lost some money and they looked on the floor and where the ride was. Nothing was there. They forgot all about Ashley falling off the ride.

Joe spotted a policeman so they called him over and explained to him what had happened. "You're in luck, a lady has just handed a purse in at the stall."

"Hooray!" they all cried. They were very happy that they had found the money at the candy-floss stall, so they could carry on having fun.

Before having a go on the Hook-a-Duck, they all decided to have something to eat. Ashley and Joe had some chips, Sita and Nicky had some mushy peas. Yum-yum! They won a prize which was a soft toy. It was a gorilla and they were happy that they had won the prize. Later they cuddled the gorilla. It was their favourite toy.

They decided to leave the fair, then all the lights went off on the street and when they went back to Joe's house, just before they went into the house, they saw some aliens. Joe couldn't find his key so they all said, "Quick Joe." Just as the aliens came he found his keys, so they ran inside and locked the door behind them.

The aliens put gooey gunge on the door, so they could stretch through the letter box. That helped them get through the door. The aliens then knocked on the door and said, "We're nice aliens really" and the children decided to let the aliens in the kitchen. The children talked to the aliens and said, "Will you come and visit us again in this house?" The aliens replied, "You can visit us in space afterwards."