

A Walk on the Beach (Good Endings - Scary)

It was only last summer when Jade, Shamir and Tom went for a walk on the beach at Burnham-on-Sea. Nobody knows why three intelligent young people would ignore all the danger signs. After all, that beach was known for sudden changes in the tide and for quicksand. Tom was the first to disappear...

The deathly sinking sand sucked down Jane and Shamir in seconds. Only their heads were out of the sinking sand. Still gasping for breath, with their eyes bulging, in a minute their heads were under and their fingertips were left above.
