

Fairy Land

By Kirsty Parker

Ashley was twelve years old and loved the colour purple, she also loved the pop star Hannah Montana. Ashley always wanted to form a fan club for Hannah Montana.

Sita, Joe and Nicky were Ashley's best friends. Ashley liked walking in the woods so she asked her friend to go with her. "Let's go to the woods after school," Ashley shouted.

As they were walking they could hear the birds screeching.

"This is a good place to explore," said Ashley.

"I don't think this is a good idea," said Sita nervously. Ashley said, "Don't be a scaredy cat." Suddenly Ashley's feet buckled beneath her and she fell to the ground.

There was an airy silence in the air, the birds had stopped singing. There was a stirring and rustling in the trees. Ashley could see behind her friends' head as they peered down at her. Something fluttered in the air so she looked closely. She could see there were fairies looking down at her.

"Who are you?" Ashley asked. Her friends were amazed at what they were seeing. One of the fairies said, "I can whisk you away to wherever you want."

Ashley said, "I want to go home, but the fairy said,

"Come on, be adventurous, don't you want to go to my land?"

Just with a twinkle of an eye they were all taken to Fairy Land to see the Fairy Queen.

This was the most amazing thing ever to happen to Ashley and her friends. The Queen asked them to stay for tea which they did, but Ashley felt it was getting too late and her mum would wonder where she was. So she asked, "Can I go now, my friends and I have had a lovely time in your land and can we come back again?"

"Yes," said the Queen, "Just close your eyes and make a wish."

Then Ashley closed her eyes and as she opened them a bit later she was in front of her house and mum was calling out, "Aren't you coming in then?" Ashley looked around and Nicky, Sita and Joe were not there. She wondered if she had dreamt the whole thing.
