

Joe's Holiday

By Tom Stillie

Joe was on holiday and was hoping to meet new friends. The first day he was splashing in the water. The water was nice and cool. Sita, Nicky and Ashley saw Joe run over to him and asked if they would play with him in the nice cool water.

Later on that day they decided to do some exploring of the Island. They found a large cave inside. Then he saw something sparkling, so he shouted to everyone to come in. As they entered they could see all around the cave. There were barrels of rum and cannon balls.

"What's that sparkling in the corner?" asked Joe.

Suddenly they heard a strange voice.

"It's my treasure, aaarr, who's stealing my treasure?" They froze in silence.

"I'm Captain Jones, no one takes my treasure from me or you'll be put to death."

Joe whispered, "Don't take everything Sita". Sita didn't listen, she grabbed the treasure and made a dash out of the cave. Ashley shouted, "No don't do that!"

The Captain saw what was happening, he and his crew started to fight Joe, Ashley, Sita and Nicky. Joe and the others saw four swords and more treasure in a chest. As they tried to escape they took some of the treasure. Ashley tried to hide some of the treasure in a safe place.

"This does not end here" said Joe, as he took one of the cannon balls and threw it at the pirate ship. They gasped as the pirate's ship blew up and they were free. Finally it was over and they were safe.
