

Battle of the Penguin
by Jalle, Y4 Parkdale Primary School

Playing in the beautiful dusty sand of South Africa. It was a beautiful day as the friends were playing, but then Joe went off to explore the country side where he came across a small cave.

Joe called for the others to come and see what he had found. "I want to go in and have a look around," said Joe. Just then Sita stepped on some small stones which made the cave open wider. All four friends were pushed in suddenly. They couldn't feel the ground under their feet anymore. They were transported to an island of frozen ice.

There to greet them was the Captain of the Penguins. He was larger than the others with big floppy feet. He brought fur coats for them to put on. "This will keep us warm," said Nicky.

The Captain of the Penguins asked us to join his army to fight the sea lions because they had stolen their food and they didn't have enough food for the rest of the winter. Joe replied, "Yes! Yes! We will help you."

Later that day the friends and the penguins all gathered together like a great black and white army. Marching along a noise from the distance got louder and louder. Sita looked at Nicky and Joe looked at Ashley, they all felt scared and frightened. It was too late there was a loud cry from the Captain of the Penguins and the Captain of the Se Lions, "ATTACK!"

Then Joe felt a large snowball swoosh past his head then there was another, then lots more. Nicky got hurt by the snow spear. "We must get out of here," cried Sita. They all started to run back to see if they could find the cave, they did. "How are we going to get out of here?" They looked at each other and around the cave. Just as before a gust of wind shot them up in the air and the friends appeared back where they started, but this time Nicky was not with them. Walking back home Joe, Sita and Ashley wondered what they were going to tell Nicky's parents.
